John E. Fedorow

John Edward Kedrow, 55, born in Red Bank, died peacefully on Thorowgood Lane in his home in Rumson with his loving wife, Beth, by his side on Saturday, Sept. 14. John was the cherished son of Edward and Eileen (nee Groth) Kedrow and the brother of Kathy and Bill Towne.

He was a graduate of the Newark Central HSSS for two Gemini missions to pick up the astronauts after splashdown and brought them back to the Launch Complex 17B at a New Brunswick beach area, Monmouth County Park System and private parties. He enjoyed regular reunions with the V C 92 squadron. He maintained his pilot's license and was a member of the Fort Monmouth Flying Club.

He was the son of the late Joseph James and the late Josephina Kedrow. He leaves behind his three daughters, two sisters, Teresa Kedrow (nee Rizzetto) and Michele Kedrow (nee Rizzetto), and a grandson.

John was a devoted father and husband. He will be deeply missed by those he mentored, his family and his friends.

He loved to entertain and fascinate that his sister, Debbie, was born in Union Beach and lived in Beachwood since 1968. Pat was a high school teacher and a great friend to many in Central Jersey.

Richard Lewis Skiff

Richard Lewis Skiff, 60, of Rumson died Friday, Sept. 19, at his home in Rumson. Lewis and Buth Skiff, Richard grew up in Chatham. He attended college in Ohio and Florida and worked in the construction business in New Jersey.

Richard was preceded by his parents, Lewis and Buth Skiff. He is survived by his wife, Anna Maria Skiff; his children, Alexander, Marissa, and Skye; his brothers, Michael and David; his daughter-in-law, Maureen Moonell (Ross); his sister, Susan; his nieces and nephews; and several great nieces and nephews.

Visitation was held Tuesday, Sept. 21, at John F. Pilger Funeral Home, Midstream. A memorial service will be held Saturday, Sept. 28, at St. John's Episcopal Church, Monmouth Beach.

In lieu of flowers, donations to the Rumson First Aid Squad are preferred.

IN MEMORIAM

John G. McMahon

John G. McMahon, 56, of Toms River and formerly of Oceanport, died peacefully on Sunday, Sept. 21, at Red Bank, after a long and valiant struggle with cancer.

John graduated from Red Bank Regional High School and Mount Saint Mary's College, in Emmitsburg, Md. John was a skilled athlete and he will leave many friends from his high school and college and from the Red Bank community.

He is survived by his wife, Lucy C. McMahon; his children, McKenna and Megan; his parents, John and Mary; his brother, Sam; and his nieces and nephews. He is also survived by his mother, Debbie Rizzetto; his sister, Margie Ecton; and his father, Edmund L. Ecton and Irving Mitchell Ecton.

He was a remarkable man and will be missed by all.

Visitation was held Saturday, Sept. 21, at St. John's Episcopal Church, Monmouth Beach.

For more information or to send condolences, please visit www.pilgerfuneral.com.

IN MEMORIAM

Patricia A. March

Patricia A. March, 73, of Belmar died on Saturday, Sept. 14, surrounded by family, friends, and her beloved cat, Captain. Patricia was a Belmar native and a graduate of Belmar High School.

She was a wonderful mom and grandmother, and her presence will be greatly missed by her family and friends.

IN MEMORIAM

Patricia A. March

Patricia A. March, 73, of Belmar died on Saturday, Sept. 14, surrounded by family, friends, and her beloved cat, Captain. Patricia was a Belmar native and a graduate of Belmar High School.

She was a wonderful mom and grandmother, and her presence will be greatly missed by her family and friends.

IN MEMORIAM

John G. McMahon

John G. McMahon, 56, of Toms River and formerly of Oceanport, died peacefully on Sunday, Sept. 21, at Red Bank, after a long and valiant struggle with cancer.

John graduated from Red Bank Regional High School and Mount Saint Mary's College, in Emmitsburg, Md. John was a skilled athlete and he will leave many friends from his high school and college and from the Red Bank community.

He is survived by his wife, Lucy C. McMahon; his children, McKenna and Megan; his parents, John and Mary; his brother, Sam; and his nieces and nephews. He is also survived by his mother, Debbie Rizzetto; his sister, Margie Ecton; and his father, Edmund L. Ecton and Irving Mitchell Ecton.

He was a remarkable man and will be missed by all.

Visitation was held Saturday, Sept. 21, at St. John's Episcopal Church, Monmouth Beach.

For more information or to send condolences, please visit www.pilgerfuneral.com.

IN MEMORIAM

Patricia A. March

Patricia A. March, 73, of Belmar died on Saturday, Sept. 14, surrounded by family, friends, and her beloved cat, Captain. Patricia was a Belmar native and a graduate of Belmar High School.

She was a wonderful mom and grandmother, and her presence will be greatly missed by her family and friends.

IN MEMORIAM

Patricia A. March

Patricia A. March, 73, of Belmar died on Saturday, Sept. 14, surrounded by family, friends, and her beloved cat, Captain. Patricia was a Belmar native and a graduate of Belmar High School.

She was a wonderful mom and grandmother, and her presence will be greatly missed by her family and friends.

IN MEMORIAM

John G. McMahon

John G. McMahon, 56, of Toms River and formerly of Oceanport, died peacefully on Sunday, Sept. 21, at Red Bank, after a long and valiant struggle with cancer.

John graduated from Red Bank Regional High School and Mount Saint Mary's College, in Emmitsburg, Md. John was a skilled athlete and he will leave many friends from his high school and college and from the Red Bank community.

He is survived by his wife, Lucy C. McMahon; his children, McKenna and Megan; his parents, John and Mary; his brother, Sam; and his nieces and nephews. He is also survived by his mother, Debbie Rizzetto; his sister, Margie Ecton; and his father, Edmund L. Ecton and Irving Mitchell Ecton.

He was a remarkable man and will be missed by all.

Visitation was held Saturday, Sept. 21, at St. John's Episcopal Church, Monmouth Beach.

For more information or to send condolences, please visit www.pilgerfuneral.com.